Nan's Notes

Yesterday the temperature must have dropped 20 degrees between 1:00 and 3:00pm. With November upon us, we will pull out our winter coats as we prepare for the Giving Thanks Circle, Cabaret, and the Kindergarten Readiness Parent Forum.

Again, I wanted to take this opportunity to reassure all parents that we are taking all appropriate measures to address the renovations by Kol Shofar. We did confront the story pole issue yesterday and those talks continue today. We will keep you informed as things progress.

From time to time I find really informative articles that I think you would enjoy reading. There are two that have appeared in the Boston Globe recently:

"Rush, Little Baby-How the rush for infant academics may actually be a waste of time-or worse." By Neil Swidey, October 28, 2007.

"The Difference Myth-, we shouldn't believe the increasingly popular claims that boys and girls think differently, learn differently, and need to be treated differently." By Caryl Rivers and Rosalind C. Barnett, October 28, 2007.

Until next time....
